What's New in the XK Codec Pack 041014?

XK Codec Pack is an all-in-one pack which contains a multitude of codecs and tools, such as DivX Free [Decoding], Koepi's XviD Final [Decoding], Koepi's XviD Final [Encoding], FFDshow Alpha, DivX ;-) Alpha, Mpeg Splitter, MPEG-1/2 Decoder, Matroska splitter, Matroska Muxer, Avi Splitter, DivX AntiFreeze Filter and many more. Each codec improves the quality of certain files, as some are designed for audio files, such as DENNY's DTS/AC3 and Ogg Vorbis DLLs, whilst other enhance video quality, such as FFDshow Alpha or MPEG-1/2 Decoder. You can also instal codecs that improve the filter subtitles, such as DirectVobSub and DivxG400. In order to work, these codecs require Windows Media Player and DirectX installed on your computer, as they need to access certain libraries and functions specific for these applications. Combined, all these codecs and multimedia players will provide you with a high-quality output for videos and audio files, as each codec enhances a certain property of a file. For instance, the DivX codec can help you compress long video streams to small sized files, whilst maintaining a decent and relatively high quality. Besides, the FFDshow codec offers support for both audio and video files, as it automatically integrates in certain DirectShow and VFW-compatible players, due to the fact that it does not include container parsers. Certain subtitle filters, such as DivxG400 or DirectVobSub can help you better synchronize the text displayed with each video frame. This helps you ensure that the subtitles of a video are in line with the scenes of a video, so that they do not appear too early or too late.
